Note:

Martha Russell, the daughter of OELR and WAR who died the day of her birth, is also buried in the Russell plot
She is, in all probability, buried in the grave in the NW corner of the Russell plot, that is, in the same grave as J.L.R. (Jeanette Locke Russell), who died at age 5 of black fever. The preceding statement as to the grave wherein Martha Russell is buried is based on the following remark made by HLRP on 10-21-77:

"I'm not sure in which grave she [Martha] is buried, but I do know that whenever we were at the cemetery Mom always went in and to the upper right and put flowers on a grave."

Approaching the Russell plot from Cemetery Street, the upper right means the NW corner.
